

Short Learning Programme in Project Management

Accredited by the North West University (NQF Level 5)

Overview:

Accredited by the North West University (NQF Level 5), this programme offers a practical application of accepted project management principles. It is an interactive learning experience based on Project Management Techniques by Rory Burke.

Each week the course theory is presented in a lecture and then applied in a practical assignment. Learners work as a project team and deliver a project through all the phases. Team dynamics are addressed and learners are equipped with skills to deal with stakeholders.

Learners will develop a project through the lifecycle phases using a model to simulate real project deliverables. Documentation to obtain signoffs, approvals and milestones for each lifecycle phase will be developed throughout the programme.

At the end of the course, teams will present their assignments as a group. An exam will be written to confirm that the learning objectives of the programme have been met.

How you will benefit
